If your application is selected, Whole Cities Foundation would like to share the good news publicly! By submitting this application, your organization gives Whole Cities Foundation and third-party supporters (such as supplier donors, Whole Foods Market, Amazon, Team Members, etc.) of the Foundation permission to share information such as a description of your project, how Whole Cities Foundation's funding is contributing to its success, any photos you send us, and your logo (we'll share our logo with you too). We share information on our website and social media accounts as well as through Whole Foods Market's marketing and press offices. Any images, videos, and multimedia submitted in this application or during progress reports, should be original content for which you own exclusive rights to display, share, reproduce and authorize use by Whole Cities Foundation and third-party supporters. In the event that Whole Cities Foundation or hired freelancers capture original photos or videos of your location, project or volunteer events, we will have all parties agree and sign a release form.
